Pickens says WT should dump Watkins

By TROY MARTIN

Criticism of West Texas State University administration and its attitude toward athletics by a former regent drew a sharp rebuttal Wednesday from Buff basketball coach Ron Ekker.

T. Boone Pickens, who quit the board of regents in a huff three years ago, obliquely called for the termination of Lloyd I. Watkins as WTSU president in a Labor Day interview with KAMR-TV's Tom Higley.

The TV appearance was another shot in the running feud between Pickens and the WTSU administration and board.

Among other things, Pickens criticized a purported contract under which Ekker is allowed to go directly to President Watkins or the president of the board when he desires.

"I don't know how Boone could know what is in my contract," Ekker declared. "I don't even have a contract and am working without one at the present time."

Pickens said Ekker is allowed to by-pass Athletic Director Gene Mayfield.

Ironically Mayfield drew criticism for by-passing President Watkins and going directly to Cloyce K. Box when his former Buffalo teammate was chairman of the board of regents.

Ekker admits that he solicited Pickens' aid in getting a job as head basketball coach at Colorado University.

"I told Ekker that I would not help him get the job at Colorado University," Pickens told Higley in the interview.

Ekker admits that this is true.

"But he told me he wouldn't help me get the job at Colorado because he wanted me to stay at West Texas," Ekker declared.

Pickens was critical of Ekker's efforts to sell season basketball tickets in August.

"Every school I know sells season tickets all summer," Ekker stated. "I tried to get permission to sell tickets in July but it was refused because football season tickets were being sold in July. I tried to get permission to sell in June but that was refused for fear it would hurt football ticket sales.

"I got permission to sell beginning Aug. 1 but did not begin selling until Aug. 23." Ekker said even then only renewals were sold.

Pickens called for changes at the top in the school administration and finally referred to President Watkins by name.

"I don't think there is any malicious attempts by the administration to circumvent Gene Mayfield," said Ekker. "And I don't believe you can judge the president for problems in the athletic department. I don't think you can blame him. He has many departments to think about and athletics is just one."

The three-year scuffle between Pickens and the board erupted at a regent's meeting last May when Pickens lectured the nine members on their responsibilities and admonished them not to extend Watkins' contract.

His criticism then and now seems to center on athletics and what he appears to consider mistreatment of Mayfield by the administration and Coach Ekker.

Pickens Monday told Higley that he has seen little change in the athletic department since the May 10 meeting of the board when "It was pointed out that the basketball coach actually was reporting to the president of the university and the chairman of the board of regents and not to the athletic director. This has got to be the only athletic depart-

Ex-regent now vocally critical

Boone Pickens who has made himself a controversial figure in the affairs of West Texas State University in recent months quit the board in a huff in March of 1973 at a crucial time in the university's history.

Ironically, Pickens resigned at a time when he could have had a decisive voice in picking a new president of WTSU to succeed Dr. James P. Cornette.

The board some three months later chose Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, the "man at the top" with whom Pickens now takes umbrage. Pickens left the board while the selection was in progress.

Pickens, an Amarillo oil company executive, resigned in a telegram to Gov. Dolph Briscoe. He cited differences in philosophy — differences apparently still exist — as the reason for his resignation.

"As you know, on several occasions I have addressed certain policy considerations concerning the university and on most of these matters I have found myself in disagreement with the chairman of the board," said

School board okays detachment

The Canyon school board approved detachment from the district of a parcel of land in the north and west corner of the district but disagreed on guidelines for future requests.

The detachment is still subject to approval by other government entities.

In compensation for future revenue that might be lost to the school district Earl T. Smith and associates agreed to pay $133,893 to the Canyon Independent School District.

The property, commonly called the Reeves-Smith land, lies in Section 41, Block 9, adjoining the Amarillo school district.

Another detachment request is pending but the board agreed to study further and project the likely development of the area.

Amarillo attorney Bob Templeton, who came to the board meeting to inform them that there was a technical holdup on the de-annexation, protested the study plans.

"I thought we were past all this," he said.

Templeton had come to the meeting to say that the petitioner, who by law must live on the affected property, had moved and another resident would not meet the residency requirements until mid-September. The only dwelling on the land is a house trailer. The school district will be paid $72,000 upon de-annexation.

Dr. Sam Thompson, county superintendent, recommended to the board to establish a policy that would set a boundary for all future detachment requests.

"Detachment should be considered on a case by case basis for property north or westerly from Hillside St. and adjoining the Amarillo district, he urged.

This would rule out the pending Templeton request.

The board balked at a boundary.

The development of vast residential areas in the land now uninhabited would place a tremendous strain on CISD resources, Mrs. Jean Irwin said.

"There's no way we can take care of those children," she said.

Ed Wieck said, "If we tie ourselves where we can't get loose, we may have to build a new school every year."

Thompson said, "I'm just afraid we'll give away our tax base and still have the problem."

The board asked for further study of the probable development of the area.

The board next took up notes on the tour of the school campuses last week.

Preventive maintenance has been neglected, and is being corrected now, Thompson told the board.

"I'm of the old school that believes we ought to get the kids out during PE to pick it (trash around schools) up once a week," said Wieck. "It might slow down littering."

Thompson said he thought such a project would be more suited to a club or organization goal.

The board also complained about the unkempt look of the school grounds this summer.

Administrative assistant Willie McAlpin replied that there was only one maintenance worker for the district during the summer.

"I think our buildings look excellent with what we spend on them," he said.

The board also heard a report on class sizes in the two elementary schools. At Gene Howe, a fifth grade teacher will be shifted to the first grade and another first grade teacher will be added at Rex Reeves to reduce the class loads to 22-24 pupils in each room.

Building still booming here

It looks like another record breaking year for construction in Canyon. This year's total construction figures have more than doubled those from last year. The current figure for 1976 is $5,470,560. Last year, the total at the end of August stood at $2,554,404.

With a total of 114 residential starts so far this year for a value of $4,407,750, the figures show a substantial increase over last year's totals. The 1975 total was 109 residences built for an amount of $3,027,400.

Another notable increase is being shown in the average cost per building over last year's average cost. In 1975, the average cost per construction was about $27,000. This year, so far, the average per building figure is $38,500.

The figures for the month of August show that 19 building

Police hunt rapist

Police in Canyon are looking for a man suspected of raping a Hereford woman in hopes that an arrest there will solve a rape here.

A black man in his 30s, about 5 feet 10 inches and weighing 130 or 140 pounds is being sought in the Hereford rape. The woman was found tied and gagged by a neighbor. She had also been stabbed.

In April, an apartment dweller here was raped by a man who left her tied and gagged. He had threatened her with a knife, the woman told police.

The rape is still unsolved, although police suspect that the man who raped the Canyon woman was also involved in at least some of the Amarillo rapes.

Eagles' worst enemy was their own team

By KEVIN LONG

To Canyon High Coach Deane Wright it seemed that every time his team would start driving the transmission would fall out in the Eagles' 21-7 opening game loss to Monterey at Lubbock's Lowery Field last Saturday.

"We just got off to a bad start with the fact that we fumbled real early, we got a penalty on the first offensive play, which was a 15 yard run, it just seemed that we had a lot of things going against us and the biggest thing against us was ourselves," said Wright in reference to his team's performance.

The fumble Wright was talking about came early in the second quarter. On a first and ten from the 20 Eagle quarterback Ches Bostick threw a pitchout far off the mark and Monterey's Phil Bruedigam recovered the ball on the nine. Two plays later David Griffith took the ball over from the seven and the Plainsmen were on the scoreboard with 10:38 left in the second quarter. David Walden converted the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

Monterey scored again before the half ended on the same combination, a seven yard run by Griffith and an extra point by Walden, after the Plainsmen had stopped the Eagles at midfield with a fourth and three. Monterey, which outgained the Eagles overall with 234 yards to Canyon's 184, took a 14-0 lead to the locker room at half time.

Canyon came out swinging in the second half and moved 73 yards in nine plays after the kickoff, with quarterback Ricky Cooper directing the attack.

"Probably we should have started Ricky at quarterback but we weren't sure if his knee was well enough to play, and then we got to a position that we knew he was going to have to play if we had a chance to win," said Wright.

"His knee didn't bother him, he played real well, and not starting him was some of the difference," he added.

Cooper completed three big passes of 16, 21, and 15 yards and Canyon was suddenly down on Monterey's 10 yard line. Robert Scott carried two straight times and scored from the seven on the second and with Bostick's extra point they had cut the Plainsmen's lead to 14-7.

After holding off a Monterey drive the Eagles had the ball at their own 20 and were down by

Bomb threat scares office

A hush fell over the County Clerk's office yesterday at 1:15 when an anonymous phone caller called and informed a secretary, "I hate to say this but there is a bomb in one of your buildings." Five calls followed in the next five minutes reinforcing the threats.

The calls came on the line listed under Marriage License Bureau.

One of the office staff said that the female caller sounded crazy, "but she sounds serious." According to secretary Christina Davis, the caller sounded about 20 years old and had a slight accent. Her voice seemed to be muffled.

The second call began: "You better not be doing what I think you're doing." Then the caller said that there was a bomb in a flower box in one of the city buildings.

County Clerk Leroy Hutton called the operator after the third call came in on the office phone. He said at this point that he felt

Some get heavy rain

Scattered thunder storms Sunday dumped up to two inches on some parts of the area and left others completely dry.

A heavy rain in the western part of the county amounted to up to two inches of moisture there, county agent Bob Robinson said.

Louis Raef at Umbarger said that community got no rain.

In the east, toward Palo Duro Canyon, other heavy rains were reported. Mrs. Marguerite Strain, who lives east of Canyon, said the Sunday rain amounted to an

Deadline nearing for new voters

New voters have until Oct. 2 to register to vote in the November Presidential election, Mrs. Audrey Bruse, county tax assessor-collector said this week.

Voter registration is carried out in the tax offices of the Randall County courthouse in Canyon and the Randall County annex in south Amarillo.

The registration offices will be open until noon on Oct. 2, she said, to take last minute registrations.

New residents must register to vote in Randall County even if they were previously registered at their former home.

"We don't transfer registration," she said. "They have to register anew."

Persons within 60 days of their 18th birthday may register during that time if they will be 18 by election day, she said.

Those who must register by Oct. 2 to vote include persons 18 and over who have never voted before and those who have moved to Randall County and have never voted here before.

Registered Randall County voters who have moved or changed their name must notify the tax office to change their voter registration.

About 2,000 to 3,000 corrected certificates will be mailed out this week to persons who have sent in update material, Mrs. Bruse said.

A final group who must re-register are those who did not receive a new voter registration card this spring.

"If they did not receive the certificate and we have not heard from them in the meantime, we had to purge them from the rolls so they must register again," she said.

A large number of certificates were returned by the post office last spring but most of the persons who did not receive a voter card have since notified the tax office, she said.

In addition to repairing course equipment, the management is presently purchasing some new equipment. A. W. Lair is manager for the golf course.

South West collection

Museum displays Indian artifacts

Indians have always been a major element of Western life and the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum boasts possibly the finest Indian artifacts collection in the Southwest, according to Carol Cline, museums exhibits designer.

In order to display this collection of Indian artifacts, the Hall of Indians has been created in the center room of the museum.

"There is a larger interest in Indians and their heritage than existed 25 years ago," Mrs. Cline said. "We had not devoted enough room to the display and it was in no definitive and educational order.

"The exhibit as it is now explains the differences in the Plains tribes and offers specific information on each of the six tribes," Mrs. Cline explained. "All the artifacts were in need of restoration and are now in fine condition."

The six tribes of Plains Indians are Comanche, Kiowa, Cheyenne, Arapaho, Apache and Pueblo. A large relief map at the beginning of the exhibit shows the origin and migration routes of the Plains tribes across the Southern Plains and the Texas Panhandle.

Work on the Hall of Indians started in February with the initial planning and designing. Mrs. Cline designed the entire exhibit, assisted by Mrs. Jane Wheeler. The various displays were also designed by Mrs. Cline.

The building of the project, done by Jack Downing, encompassed the months of April, May and June.

The Indian exhibits include a Pueblo adobe home, furnished in Spanish Colonial and Indian artifacts. All are authentic artifacts, according to Mrs. Cline.

The Pueblo home features a typically-styled fireplace, large grain box, and examples of how the Pueblo Indians lived, Mrs. Cline said. An authentic Navaho blanket is also on display along with artifacts from the Spanish Catholic and Pueblo artifacts from the Spanish Catholic and Pueblo religions. The Pueblo Indians used Kachinas, small statues, in their religion to represent gods.

Also in the Pueblo home is a full figure of an Indian in original Pueblo clothing.

One of the major features of the hall is a Southern Plains tepee, furnished with such artifacts as fur pallets, papooses and hunting items. The tepee itself belonged to Baldwin Parker, son of Quanah Parker, who was the last of the Comanche chiefs.

A full length trail bonnet, lance, and personal items belonging to Quanah Parker are interesting features of the Comanche section, according to Mrs. Cline.

"We concentrate on the roles of both men and women in each tribe and the Comanches were the most liberated women," Mrs. Cline said. "They owned the tepees and poles, all their own belongings and even their own horses."

The importance of the Indians to our area in Texas is stressed more in this type exhibit," Mrs. Cline said. "These very important artifacts are rare, many of them the only ones in existence, and are shown to a better advantage in the Hall of Indians.

Funeral held for Uselding

Funeral rites for George F. Uselding, 70, were held Monday at 10:30 a.m. in the Holy Name Catholic Church of Happy with Rev. M. Stortz officiating.

Rosary services were conducted Sunday evening at Schooler-Gordon Funeral Chapel in Canyon. Interment was at the Happy Cemetery with Jeff Whitman, Bud Selvidge, Gus McDonald, Charles Evans, Ben Bates, Carl Schulte, Frank Briscoe and Lee Todd as pall bearers.

Mr. Uselding died at St. Anthony's Hospital Saturday. He was born Jan. 7, 1906 in Denver, Colo. and was a retired mechanic. He had lived in the Happy area for 60 years and resided at 206 N. Floyd Street in Happy.

He was married to the former Evelyn Eva Huseman on May 14, 1936 at Plainview. She preceded her husband in death in June 1952. He was a member of the Holy Name Catholic Church at Happy.

Survivors include two sons, Nick Uselding of Amarillo and Mike Uselding of Tulia; a daughter, Mrs. Bob Boyd of Hale Center and three grandchildren.

Foreign student figures up 66%

The number of foreign students at West Texas State University is developing along with the program.

This fall semester foreign student enrollment jumped 66 percent, from 45 to 75, over last year's totals.

The students come from every continent except Australia, and 40 out of the 75 are pursuing graduate level degrees.

Foreign Student Advisor Jack Muthersbough, assistant professor of geography, credits the increases to the fact that last year "We did a lot of mailing to the US Information Offices. It was the first time we have done a comprehensive world-wide mailing.

"Our level of inquiry went up at least 25 percent," he observes.

Muthersbough also believes that the program's quality and the region itself is attractive to foreign students.

"The foreign students receive lots of personalized attention," he says. They are met at the airport and escorted to their dormitories. He introduces them personally to their academic advisors and makes sure they receive all the help they need with academics and with becoming adjusted to their new environment.

Muthersbough hopes to increase the number of social activities for the students "so they can get started into a feeling of belonging."

A new event this year will be to celebrate Ten-Ten Day (Oct. 10), or China's independence day on Taiwan. The foreign students will show films, and hold activities during the week.

He also hopes to involve more members of community, and intends to promote a scholarship fund.

Among the 75 students, the three new countries represented are Malaysia, Korea and Ethiopia. Also present are students from Taiwan, Japan, India, Iran, Kenya, Nigeria, Germany, Canada, France, Algeria, Hong Kong, Viet Nam, Thailand, Panama, Cuba, Peru, Colombia, and The Gambia.

The most popular majors for the students, according to Muthersbough, are business and accounting, and the next is agriculture.

The most dramatic leap in enrollment is the tripling of the number of women attending West Texas State. Last year, there were only eight female foreign students. This year there are 26.

Library to get history display

Canyon Fine Arts Club will officially present their historic wall hanging depicting the history of Randall County on Sunday, Sept. 12, at the Canyon Public Library.

Members of the club, who have been involved in the needlework project better than two years, will be honored by the Canyon Public Library Board at a reception from 4-5 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

The Randall County-City of Canyon Bicentennial Committee will co-sponsor the occasion which is a bicentennial horizons '76 project for the club.

Open to the public, the reception for the Canyon Fine Arts Club is being co-hosted by a committee composed of Kathy Glazener, chairman, Mary Huntington, Jane Stephens, Mary Alice Hines and Margaret Harper.

The reception will follow the first "Films for the Family" presentation which is scheduled at 2:30 p.m. in the Civic Complex with the library board as sponsors.

Edna Mae Erskine was among those Canyon Senior Citizens signing the registration book for "macrame" craft instruction to be held at 10 a.m. daily for a two week period with Delpha Downing as instructor.

Trips end summer

By JO FULKERSON

RUIDOSO, NEW MEXICO was the place and visiting with family was the occasion lately for Eunice Rinehart (Mrs. Barney). She and her sister and brother-in-law, Gladys and Guinn Davenport, discovered a new and beautiful place to visit in the Mountain of the Gods there. Just gorgeous if you have lots of money and lots of time.

They went up the ski lift (nearly 12,000 feet up) and almost froze, Eunice said, but enjoyed every minute of it. Sounds like real excitement. Also, Vera Tate, from Hobbs, New Mexico has been visiting with the Rinehart's lately. Mr. Rinehart took her home about the first of September.

I AM SORRY that it has taken me some time to announce the new granddaughter of Pat and Tex Reed. She was born Aug. 24, 1976 to Clayton L. and Donna Bowes, who live in Lynn Mass. The baby weighed six pounds and four ounces, and was named Carla Marie.

Reports are that the baby is beautiful, and she and mother are doing fine.

SANDRA AND MIKE Edmiston went to Midland recently to visit with Mike's mother and Dad.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Murphy are back from a recent vacation trip.

Buster Rice reports a safe trip and enjoyable three or four day visit with family afar off.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Webb are recent returnees also.

Weatherford has been an attraction for Art and Jean McQueary recently.

Six Flags for the Al Rinne and Jon Hoffman families.

I haven't heard any labor day plans or reports, but I am sure there were lots of picnics, etc. Hope the weather cooperates for all these.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Lamkin were going fishing at Greenbelt or to McClellan — just for the outing and to be together.

MR. AND MRS. Joe Carlton have a new travel trailer parked in Siesta. Gosh, its pretty, take my word for it. Mrs. Carlton was kind enough to show it to me one afternoon. I hadn't been in one of the "newer models", and you would be surprised at the space that this travel trailer has.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton are very proud of it, of course. They also have a home in Pampa, and hope that when Mr. Carlton semi-retires, they will be able to sandwich a lot of travel into their schedule.

TALK ABOUT TRAVELERS — Juanita Ballard and sons, Desi and Stanley, visited with us on their way home to Austin, having been in Albuquerque, New Mexico for the better part of a week to be with daughter, Beverly, at her marriage to James Paul Ballog.

The wedding was Saturday, Sept. 4, and reception was held in the Coronado Village Mobile Home Club House.

Beverly is one of my nieces as her mother is my sister.

OUR YOUNGEST SON, Gary, arrived home Thursday from West Germany, where he had been for two years serving as a Missionary for the Latter-Day Saint's Church. We are very pleased to have him home and hope he will be in our area for a while.

His brother, Larry, and sister in law, Judi, who are students at WTSU, are trying to convince him to enroll in WT first opportunity. Sounds good to him. Right now, we think he is going to be working for a while, and also catching up on his visiting relatives, etc.

IT WAS REALLY heartwarming to see how much money the Amarillo area raised for the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Campaign.

I was really thrilled when the Oakley children, Greg, Sherry, Diana and Debbie, came by with their "cans" for a contribution, and to see them on television later, turning in their hard-earned money. Thank you Oakleys for being caring neighbors.

DID YOU GO out to Boy's Ranch for the Rodeo? Many report of having lots of fun.

Canyon.

Hosts for the reception will be the Library Board and the Randall County-Canyon Bicentennial Committee. Construction of the new library and the creation of the wall hanging have both been recognized as bicentennial projects.

Originally the county's library was established here in 1906 by the Ladies Book Club (which was later changed to be named the Woman's Book Club) and membership admission at the time was a gift of a book to be circulated among the members.

In January 1934, the Randall County Library was opened to the public and included the collection of books which had been used for years by the Ladies Book Club. The club had joined the federation of women's clubs in 1915 and a percent of their collected dues are annually contributed toward the library fund.

Financial support of the public library was given by the City of Canyon as well as Randall County through the years until February 1968 when the county relinquished their support of the library to the City of Canyon.

Present library board members include Walter Shelly, Claire Kuehn, Kathy Glazener, Terry White and Ted Freidell.

In the city, rainfall recorded at the Canyon weather station totaled .11 of an inch.

The rain was enough to help the farmers, Robinson said.

"This will help the wheat that's planted now," he said.

Robinson said there should be sufficient moisture now to plant wheat.

Randall County is considerably short of moisture this year. In the 12-month period ending Sept. 1, the county has received 12 ½ inches of moisture, Robinson said. So far this year, there have been 10.3 inches.

Moisture in 1975 totaled 21 inches and in '74 there were 23 inches recorded. About 18 inches a year is average.

only a touchdown.

They had picked up a first down but no sooner had fumbled the ball away, this time Jonathan Hull, at the 39. Ron Reeves recovered the ball for the Lubbock school.

Seven plays later Griffith, who picked up 130 yards on 30 carries for the night, scored his third touchdown, on a two yard run. Walden added the extra point which concluded all scoring and a 21-7 win for the Plainsmen.

"I would say that we played fairly well but it was kind of a nonchalant contest our kids weren't emotional and they really were not ready to play," said Wright. "I don't think we were outclassed, I just don't think we played up to our capabilities."

Wright did have some praise for individual players however.

"The defense was headed up by Drew Hesler and Matt Madewell. I thought they played excellently and also Lin Smith.

"Our offense was led by Ricky Cooper who was our field general and our quarterback when we scored the touchdown. David McKay did an excellent job of running with the football, he gained 42 yards."

The Eagles will host Floydada in their next contest which will be played at 8:00 p.m. tomorrow at Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium.

Ex-Regent. . .

Pickens in letters to regents and school officials.

"Mr. Cloyce Box and I have some fundamental differences in philosophy of the role and operation of the board of regents and our arguments for the most part have resulted from these opposing philosophies. The action of the board at the last meeting in re-electing Mr. Box as chairman indicates to me that the board tacitly endorses the leadership of Mr. Box and his philosophy of regental direction. I do not concur with these sentiments and believing that my continued presence on this board would serve no beneficial purpose for West Texas State University I have decided to resign."

Apparently Pickens is still at odds with the philosophies of the board he served from Oct. 6, 1969 until he quit in March of 1973 and those of the present chairman, Jack Shelton of Amarillo.

He took the board to task at its May meeting about meeting responsibilities and was critical of the chairman in a TV interview Monday.

permits were issued in Canyon for new residences at a value of $951,000. Among these is a $84,-400 permit to the Canyon High School building trades department for construction of the new residence of Dr. Ken Crossland at 1200 Brookhaven.

The total figures for the month of August on permits is a record breaking $968,360. The figure exceeds the past record of $833,900 set in 1974. For the same month last year, the total was $715,000.

City code enforcement agent Jerry Lehnick said that construction prospects "looks good for the rest of this year and next year too."

No hoes for help

Summer help to maintain the school grounds is hard to come by, CISD administrative assistant Willie McAlpin told the school board Tuesday night.

Students paid by federal Manpower grants are prohibited from touching anything that has a moving part, McAlpin said. "And they resent having to hoe all day."

Teen guilty of drug sale

Mike Dodson, 18 years old, 2631 Twelfth Ave., Tuesday was convicted by a Randall County jury of delivering LSD to an undercover narcotics agent.

Dodson was convicted of delivering half an LSD tablet to the agent on the night of Sept. 5, 1975.

LSD, medically known as lysergic acid, is an hallucinogenic drug with unpredictable and sometimes catastrophic after effects.

During the trial there was testimony that Dodson received $18 in return for a promise to obtain an additional six "hits" of the dangerous drug for the undercover agent.

Dodson opted to have punishment set by presiding Judge George Dowlen. Judge Dowlen delayed a punishment hearing until Sept. 20 in order to study background of the defendant.

In the meantime, Dodson is free on $10,000 bond which was continued by Judge Dowlen.

Bomb. . .

like the calls were a hoax.

The phone company began efforts to put a trap on the lines going into the County Clerk's office.

The third call from the "prankster" demanded $12,000 to be put in a trash can in back of the building within two hours or "I'm going to kill Leroy Hutton." The secretary asked if the lady meant a trash can behind the Sheriff's Department and received in response, "No, stupid. I'm going to kill you all. Do you want it? You're going to get it."

With a swarm of sheriff's deputies around, the office began to relax after the sixth call came in at 1:20. This communique lasted for ten minutes between Christina Davis and the caller.

The lengthy conversation, "Don't pay any attention to those (calls), it was my cousin and I just beat the hell out of her." Davis asked the lady how old her cousin was and was told that she was 13. But the office workers who were listening on the three office calls all agreed that the voice was the same as the previous calls.

The woman then explained to Ms. Davis that she had worked there (in City Hall) for three years beginning in 1963. She said she had been a maid (which Leroy Hutton said they had never employed). She then explained that she had hated her boss (whose name she did not recall) and that "he had made her do other stuff."

She went on to explain that her father was a plumber and her mother was a secretary. She said that she was 34 years old. According to the caller, her brother had been killed in a motorcycle wreck at the age of 20.

She apologetically explained that her cousin, who had made the calls, had received treatment at Killgore and is not in school.

The telephone company traced the calls to a Drake exchange in Amarillo but did not have time to get a number for the calls.

City tables bid for well okay

A request by High Plains Water Conservation District to agree to the legality of a well adjoing city water fields was tabled Tuesday night by city commissioners.

Frank Rainer, executive director of the conservation district, explained that a well adjoining the city property in a narrow strip of land was drilled in the wrong place and is technically illegal.

The conservation district would like to make the well legal, Rainer said, but this could only be done if the city would agree not to drill any wells closer than 150 yards of the property line. Another request to drill a second well was denied, Rainer said.

City manager Glen Metcalf advised the board not to grant the variance.

"This would be detrimental to our water rights," he said. "An agreement would restrict the development of a quarter section of the city water field," he said.

City attorney Elton Cox also advised strongly against such an agreement.

"The city should be pursuing some sort of relief to stop the pumping of water from a well that is there illegally instead of considering an agreement with those who drilled the well to overlook the violation," he said. "We bought all our water rights there in good faith and I don't believe we should relinquish any of them."

The city also accepted a bid of $4,947 for a rescue tool called the 'jaws of life.' They agreed to permit the partial paving of an alley between 16th and 17th Avenues, accepted the dedication to the public of Hospital Drive and heard a report from County Commissioner Paul Lindsey on the status of the Canyon North road.

The city had approved the subdivision plat subject to the road being brought up to county standards. The Canyon North would never meet county standards, Lindsey said, but the commissioners had accepted a compromise based on engineering recommendations.

The city commission then moved to approve the plat with the road meeting the specifications of the county commission.

They appointed commissioner J. Pat Stephens to act as the city's representative in the telephone rate controversy.

ment in the United States where that might be going on at this time."

Higley asked if this were written into the contract.

"Oh, yes, it's actually the contract that Mr. Ekker has signed, it actually has been executed by the president of the university and the chairman of the board of regents and not the athletic director and it so states in his contract that he will report to the chairman of the board of regents and to the president of the university."

Pickens also expressed displeasure with athletic housing arrangements.

". . . .Apparently Coach Ekker made a deal with the president of WT, Watkins to give him 10 rooms for basketball and five of them would be single occupancy and this is unusual," Pickens said.

Higley asked if this was done with Athletic Director Mayfield's knowledge.

"Can you imagine the athletic director going for a program like that when all the other sports have double occupancy rooms?" asked Pickens. "Of course he was not forewarned. He got a built-in immediate morale problem in the athletic groups.

"Then Ekker went out to the Cage Club where he did not raise money back when the program was in trouble. The total program was in trouble when Mayfield raised $125,000. After that was over with, well then Ekker went out and raised $17,000 to refurbish the 10 rooms that he was able to get for his basketball team. That's a lot of money, $17,-000 to spend on 10 rooms in an athletic dormitory."

Higley asked for solutions.

"The first thing is that you're just going to have to get away from political appointments to the board of regents and I think you should have for instance the prerequisites that West Texas would be that they would either be WT graduates or qualified, sincerely interested people from the Panhandle region."

It was here that Pickens suggested that Watkins be dumped.

"Well, I think that we've pointed out obvious deficiencies at WT and obvious lack of organization ability and total leadership and I think that the man at the top is responsible for any operation and I think that if the operation is not running smoothly, that there should be changes.

"I think you should start right at the top."

Prodded by Higley, Pickens named Dr. Watkins as the man at the top.

Head Football Coach and Athletic Director Mayfield was contacted and said he had no comment to make on the Pickens television interview.

Dr. Watkins was out of town and could not be reached for comment.

Umpire of year title for McDonald

A Canyon man was chosen last week as "Umpire of the Year" by the more than 6,000 adult softball players in Amarillo.

Kenneth McDonald, who is a former softball player, was picked among 52 umpires who officiated during the summer.

He officiated at 306 games this summer. McDonald was the first ump honored at the sports banquet last week but the title will be given annually.

McDonald commented that there was a great need for umpires in the summer leagues. The 270 softball teams had only about 20 umpires by the end of the season, he said.

Umpiring is an ideal way for a college student to earn extra money, McDonald said.

Umps are paid about $7 a game, he said, and umpire four games a night. McDonald estimated a student could earn about $1,800 during a summer.

McDonald will be officiating at some games in the fall league.

Realtors' scholarship awarded to McKay

Joe McKay, a senior business administration major at West Texas State University, came a step closer to the realization of a four-year dream Friday (Sept. 3). He was singled out by the University's business administration department as the third recipient of the Amarillo Board of Realtors' scholarship for an outstanding business student who intends to enter the real estate field.

McKay was handed a $250. check by Maurine Daniels, president of the Amarillo group. She said that "the Amarillo Board of Realtors and the city's real estate industry is constantly looking for ways to update the profession and encouraging young men like Joe McKay is one good way."

This is the third semester the realtors have presented the check. McKay, the son of Tom McKay of Amarillo, says he will use the money to help with tuition costs during his last year at WTSU.

McKay is no stranger to the real estate industry. He says that he has "been working the building trades since high school. As a matter of fact," he observes, "that's one thing that's helped me finance my college education." Joe McKay has had his own roofing company since he graduated from high school.

In addition to other requirements, McKay and the other recipients of the realtor's award have had to have at least a 3.0 average on a four-point grading scale.

Meet the teacher night at PTA Mon.

Parents of kindergarten through third grade youngsters will get to meet the teachers and tour their child's room Monday at a special PTA meeting at Rex Reeves Elementary School.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room.

On Tuesday, parents of the fourth through sixth grade students will meet their teachers.

The PTA meeting was divided because of the large number of students enrolled there this year, principal Bob Parks said.

Student government promoted at WTSU

Promoting student government and the image of West Texas State University are the plans of Steve Williams, Student Senate president and vice president of the Student Association.

"We want to make the student body more aware of the existence of the Senate and Student Association offices," Williams said.

In order to accomplish these goals, Williams, a senior industrial education major from Canyon, feels the students need to know the offices are available and accessible.

"Our offices will listen to grievances and complaints and try to do something about the problem," he said. "But if we can't help, we will refer that student to someone who can."

This semester, the Senate plans to investigate further the question of course evaluation.

A resolution was introduced in the 1976 spring semester that would establish a formal method of evaluating subject matter by students enrolled in each course, according to Williams.

The Senate will also initiate discussion of a formal system for grade appeals, promote scholastic honors and urge involvement of the students in campus organizations, Williams said.

"Students who don't participate in any type of organization are sufficiently lacking in a well-rounded college career," Williams said.

Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Williams, 2611 10th Avenue, Canyon.

Gene Howe

Positive attitude applauded

By FARRIS ANN MORRISON

"BE A POSITIVE worker" is one of the responsibilities of a PTA officer.

When Sarah, our president, read these general principles to us, I was particularly taken by this one. It seems to sum up an attitude that should be universal.

Every activity we take part in, each role we assume could be accomplished successfully following just this one tenet. How many times have you been tempted to do a job all by yourself rather than hassle with undependable, balky, or unenthusiastic "helpers"?

When you think about it, even a difficult or unpleasant undertaking can be carried to completion and done well with a positive attitude. One of the things I like so well in Gene Howe is our positive attitude. I believe in goals, projects, even the atmosphere of the school and everyone associated with it mirrors this "yes" feeling.

Being a part of it even brings a "yes" feeling about oneself.

BOB AND CHERRY Winters, Bobby and Brian left for the mountains of New Mexico as soon as school was out Friday. They returned Monday after a lovely week-end in the mountains.

At the horse races in Raton, they won 50 cents. They camped out 2 of the 3 nights. The third night they stayed in a motel in Santa Rosa because it was too cold.

They were in Taos, Tres Ritas, then home — a nice time.

BONNER AND GLYNDA Markham were in Dallas this week. I don't suppose they could have chosen a more exciting Cowboy game to see than that Houston-Dallas sudden death.

I almost gave up in the last quarter, but you never can count the Cowboys out.

The Markhams also took in Six Flags, Lion Country Safari, and the other attractions in the Metroplex.

SARAH AND BILLY Edwards spent the week-end in Hamlin visiting Sarah's 83 year old grandmother, Mrs. Gregg.

From what Sarah told me, Mrs. Gregg is like my 86 year old grandmother; my grandmother can out-do me any day, dresses more fashionably, and visits the "elderly" in the convalescent homes who are twenty years younger!

Sarah's grandmother still works her own garden and walks all over town. Mrs. Prather, Sarah's mother, from O'Donnell went with them.

THE AREA COUNCIL of PTA has a clothing fund to which Gene Howe donated our lost and found. There are plans to try to have a collection Chairman at our school so don't throw away those kids' clothes.

There are children in Amarillo who do not go to school because they don't have proper clothing to wear. More about this later.

FROM SHERRIE CATES comes the Scout news. Pack 130 held their Back to School Rally night August 26. This was the third and last summer activity and all enjoyed an ice cream social and game night at the school.

It was also recruiting night and 17 new cubs joined: David Bavousett, Shane Steele, Tad McCoy, John Cespedes, Ernie Chedester, Tod Brown, Robert Linn, James Wariner, Rex Roberts, Brett White, Ronny Williams, Patrick Willesey, Rob Bulla, John Cunningham, and Mark White.

There are five new Den Mothers who will be in charge of the three new Dens: Doris White and JoAnn Jolley for Den 5, Linda Chedester and Carolyn Brown for Den 3, and Reggie Reneau for Den 2. David Willesey and Lloyd Reneau are the new committeemen. There is a new Cub Master, Larry Cunningham.

Billy Edwards, previous Club Master, is now the Advancement man and will be in charge of awards ceremonies.

The program for this month will be at the Sept. 23 Pack meeting, 7 p.m. at the school. Patterned along Olympic lines, the Physical Fitness will feature all boys competing individually in their own age group.

Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be given and the gold medal winners will all compete in the Council Physical Fitness, Oct. 2, at the AHS practice field. Events include the softball throw, sit-ups, push-ups, and 50 yard dash.

THE WEBELO PROGRAM is a preparation for boys 10 years old to go into Boy Scouts. It is the next step after Cubs. Gene Howe has enough boys for two Webelo dens, but fathers are desperately needed.

Two fathers could do it, but four would be better. If you can help, call Sherrie Cates.

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 2, 1976

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 49)

Repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution, S.J.R. 49 amends Section 49-c of Article III of the Texas Constitution to provide for and authorize an additional $400 million in Texas water development bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the members of each house of the Legislature for such water development purposes as the Legislature may prescribe.

The amendment contains a specific prohibition against the use of state funds for the development of water resources from the Mississippi River and also requires that before any single water development project may be undertaken requiring the expenditure of more than $35 million in bond proceeds, it must be approved by resolution of the Legislature.

The amendment removes the constitutional requirement that certain revenues must be used to retire water development and water quality enhancement bonds and removes the constitutional interest rate limit on such bonds.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing an increase of $400 million in the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the legislature; amending and consolidating provisions of Sections 49-c, 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution; and repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution."

NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT (H.J.R. 99)

H.J.R. 99 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to increase from $100 million to $200 million the aggregate principle amount of Texas water development bonds which may be issued and outstanding by the Texas Water Development Board to provide grants and loans for water quality enhancement purposes as established by the Legislature.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"A constitutional amendment to increase from $100 million to $200 million the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued for water quality enhancement purposes."

Ladies planning fall rally here

"And God Created" is the general theme for a Fall Rally to be sponsored Sept. 19 by the Ladies Aid of St. Paul Lutheran Church.

At 2:30 p.m. a public discussion and film on "abortion" will be presented with panel speakers including Dr. Edwin J. Low, M. D. of Canyon and Carolyn Cloninger of the Catholic Services.

Sharing ideas on "growing old" with other members of the Canyon Senior Citizens is the objective for the discussion group which meets Tuesday mornings at 10 a.m. From left are Charlie Conatser, Mrs. Conatser, Mrs. Edna Mae Erskine, Joe Frank, moderator, and Karlina Salinas.

Change and adjustment important for "aging"

People can contribute to a good emotional state during middle and old age by developing the ability to meet change and adjust to it well before they reach that stage, Mrs. Vivian Blair, family life education — aging — specialist, says.

"How do you react to the question 'How old are you?' Your own reaction, if you are past 35, will tell you much about yourself and what is in store for you as you grow older," she added.

Mrs. Blair is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University system.

"Middle and old age bring on change in personal life as well as physical change. Since these changes are not familiar, it is natural to be anxious about them.

"How you accept and adjust to change at other phases of life indicates how you will probably accept and adjust to the changes of middle and old age," she continued.

If you complain, protest and feel sorry for yourself, you can expect to see that same pattern appear when the inevitable changes of middle and old age occur, she said.

"The attitude we bring with us to this phase of life largely determines our condition at this time," she said.
